Barplot which represent logfc dispersion for each experiment after normalization